INPEX Again Listed in Climate Disclosure Leadership Index by CDP

INPEX CORPORATION (INPEX) announced it has been listed in the Climate Disclosure Leadership Index (CDLI) as a leading company in terms of disclosure of climate-related information for the second consecutive year.

CDP, an international NPO that represents 767 investors managing a combined asset pool of US$ 92 trillion, evaluates approximately 5,000 companies worldwide and 500 leading Japanese companies (Japan 500) on their emissions of greenhouse gases, as well as the risks and opportunities associated with climate change. Based on its analysis, CDP lists the top 10% of companies in the CDLI for their high level of transparency and data quality in their disclosure of climate-related information.

(See <https://www.cdproject.net/en-US/Pages/HomePage.aspx>)

CDP's selection of INPEX as one of 28 companies from Japan 500 to be awarded this recognition is a verification of INPEX's high standards in transparency and disclosure of climate-related information.

INPEX continues to contribute to making communities more livable and prosperous through the provision of a stable and efficient supply of energy, and the proactive disclosure of information befitting a global company.

About CDP

CDP, formerly known as the Carbon Disclosure Project is an international, not-for-profit organization providing the only global system for companies and cities to measure, disclose, manage and share vital environmental information. CDP works with market forces, including 767 institutional investors with assets of US$92 trillion, to motivate companies to disclose their impacts on the environment and natural resources and take action to reduce them. CDP now holds the largest collection globally of primary climate change; water and forest risk commodities information and puts these insights at the heart of strategic business, investment and policy decisions.

Reference

INPEX was also reaffirmed as a member of Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI) Asia Pacific, a global Socially Responsible Investment (SRI) index. This index is offered by Dow Jones, a major US company that provides financial information services including stock indices, and RobecoSAM, a Switzerland-based investment management company that provides counsel on sustainable investment.
