

Financial Results
for the year ended December 31, 2023
based on International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS)

INPEX CORPORATION (Securities Code:1605)

March 27, 2024

This presentation includes forward-looking information that reflects the plans and expectations of the Company. Such forward-looking information is based on the current assumptions and judgments of the Company in light of the information currently available to it, and involves known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Company's performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by such forward-looking information. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors include, without limitation:

- Price volatility and change in demand in crude oil and natural gas
- Foreign exchange rate volatility
- Change in costs and other expenses pertaining to exploration, development and production

The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise the disclosure of information in this presentation (including forward-looking information) after the date of this presentation.

INPEX has adopted International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) to:

1 . Facilitate international comparability of financial information

- Many global companies including major international oil companies (IOCs) have adopted IFRS. INPEX's adoption of IFRS facilitates the comparability of its financial information with that of global companies and helps improve convenience for stakeholders, including investors and analysts.

2 . Improve the INPEX Group's business management through standardized accounting procedures

- Ichthys local entities, which account for the majority of INPEX's financial performance, and other overseas subsidiaries and affiliates already adopt IFRS. Extending the adoption of IFRS to Japanese entities is expected to help improve the INPEX Group's business management through efficient financial reporting under unified account standards and fair performance evaluation.
